

Columbia County Republican Party

Preamble to The Platform

This Statement is offered not only as the basis upon which The Columbia County Republican Party (The Party) Platform has been developed, but as a vision projecting the direction the Republican Party must take locally, as well as nationally, if the Republican Party is to remain a viable force, and truly lead and serve the nation.

Toward A New Republican Leadership

Continue to provide the leadership in preserving and strengthening traditional American values and those great values of Western Civilization that have given the world immense prosperity and progress, and the realization of democracy and freedom. National leadership must find the means to preserve the spiritual and moral values of our great nation that provided the benefits of freedom. While we recognize there are no constitutional areas to be effectively managed from the national level, we resist the growing power of the Federal government, and support maintaining the power to govern at the lowest level possible - City, County, State. At this level is where the people's voice will be heard and government become more responsive.

We recognize the full human potential. True freedom will be maintained within the framework of a free economy. We recognize the increasing complexity of life, the increasing cost of many essential services, e.g., transportation, energy, and health care. Such intervention by the state requires close watch, and kept to an absolute minimum to ensure the spirit and practice of free enterprise. As a nation, we must encourage a realistic social consciousness on the part of corporations and entrepreneurs as regards the public good and employees. Likewise, we must find legislation that will preserve the small businessman in the face of multi-national corporations that are, by their very nature, destroying competition and thereby, the free enterprise system.

The lessons of history are clear in teaching that in all great civilizations that greatness was based on three elements: the family, the education system, and strong religious faith. All three mutually reinforce in a common focus the respect and love of country. The mobility in our modern world and other factors have destroyed the unity of the family, and economic needs and expectations have further weakened the family by removing parents from the home. Schools have been tampered with, and local control virtually destroyed. Religions--all traditional religions--have been under attack, legal and intellectual, resulting in the weakening and distortion of religious institutions. Government efforts must be forthcoming to stabilize our society and our culture, so the values of our founding fathers will again be made manifest.

An emerging system of American cultural values has been virtually aborted by the onslaught of multiculturalism, absurd immigration policies, the passive acceptance of aberrant lifestyles, and demand for toleration of variant, even deviant cultural and social conduct. Tolerance must not replace our sense of social responsibility, essential in preserving harmony and profiting from cultural diversity. Nor may unquestioning tolerance and multiculturalism be used to degrade or weaken our basic American cultural and value system. The apostles of absolute tolerance have further turned traditional American culture and values into items of derision and criticism. Legislation must be found that will encourage respect for the individual while fostering the values that made this a great nation.

The basic principles upon which the Republican Party stands must be reaffirmed, and Republican Party leadership and elected officials must energetically apply these principles in guiding the Republican Party, the Nation, the State, and our Local government. The principles of our Founding Fathers made our nation great, provide the framework for future greatness, and Republican Party success. These principles include:

- Less government,
- Lower taxes,
- Minimal government, at all levels,
- Strong national defense,
- Firm foreign policy,
- Free market,
- Individual freedom, responsibility, and accountability,
- Freedom of religion and assembly,
- Preserving and strengthening traditional American values, morality and integrity, and,
- Patriotism and duty to country.

Purpose of The Platform

The Party platform represents our goals for the County, State, and Nation. To pursue these goals the below signatories will expect elected officials to implement legislation which is consistent with the above stated Republican principles and position further amplified in this platform.

Adoption of The Platform

This platform was formally adopted by the County Committee of the Columbia County Republican Party on the 11th day of December in the year of our Lord 1997. By our signature, we, the Executive Board, pledge to foster and propagate this platform, and the principles of the Republican Party.

Policy Number III: Activities During Primaries

PURPOSE: To establish policy governing the political activities of the County Party and individual Republican Party Members during primary, special, and non-partisan elections.

BASIC CONSIDERATION: The County Party expects County Party Officials and Members to support the winner of the Primary as the standard bearer of the County Party. Officials and Members are not to endorse or support candidates of competing political organizations.

1. THE COUNTY PARTY IN GENERAL. Following the qualifying of candidates, The County Party will maintain strict neutrality during primaries. The "Primary Period" is defined as that period from the beginning of candidate qualification week through the close of polls on Election Day for a primary and primary runoff, if there is a runoff. The exception will be in the event an obviously undesirable candidate, who would damage the conservative Republican cause, who has insisted on qualifying as a Republican candidate after concerted counseling by the Chair. To determine whether a candidate should not be supported there must be some clear moral or ethical liability, or political activity that would be detrimental to the County Party or Republican Party in general.
2. THE CHAIR. The Chair will remain completely neutral in all races during the above-defined "Primary Period."
3. EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBERS. Executive Board Members are free to support candidates of their choice during primaries. Any involvement with a candidate must absolutely be performed with maximum discretion, moderation, and in "good style." No campaign activities may be allowed to damage the County Party. No campaign activities by any member of the Executive Board shall imply that he/she speaks for the Executive Board, or the County Party, with the exception of the Chair.

4. COUNTY COMMITTEE MEMBERS. A County Committee Member is defined as a voting Member of the County Committee. County Committee Members are free to support any given candidate of their choice during primaries. Such support must be given with discretion, and in no way allowed to damage the County Party or County Party unity. The same philosophy of "good style" applies. No campaign activities by any member of the County Committee shall imply that he/she speaks for the Executive Board, the County Committee, or the County Party, with the exception of the Chair.
5. REFERENDUMS. The Party will use the Primary as an opportunity for the voters to express direct will of the people through referendum items, at the direction of the County Committee.

Policy Number IV: Candidate Support

PURPOSE: To establish policy concerning the support of Republican candidates in primary and general elections.

1. GENERAL. Candidates are expected to fund their own campaigns. The County Party will support the Party standard bearers with money or special assistance in the general election. Not all candidates will be supported equally, but rather support will be based on a number of conditions.
2. DETERMINING SUPPORT. Whether a candidate receives support, or the amount of the support, will be determined by the Executive Board, based on recommendations and data provided by the Political Operations Group.
3. CONSIDERATIONS IN DETERMINING SUPPORT. The amount and type of support given a candidate will be determined by several factors, which include, but are not limited to the following:
 - Criticality of the race. How important the race is in relation to other races.
 - Strength of the opposition. Candidates with weak opposition will normally not be provided the degree of support given candidates with more formidable opposition.
 - Available funding. Candidates who have ample or adequate financial and other support will normally not be given the degree of support of candidates less well-funded.
 - Republican Principles. Candidates who clearly manifest commitment to Republican principles will be provided support. Candidates will be asked to review the County Party Governing Principles prior to qualifying. Candidates will be asked to affirm the Governing Principles or detail exceptions. Candidates will pledge to promote and fulfill the Governing Principles as an elected official.
 - Other factors will be considered and evaluated as appropriate.

4. PARTY SUPPORT

- All Republican candidates will have access to the same information, e.g., political history / trends data relevant to the candidate's area of interest, and campaign information from Republican Party literature and similar material.
- The County Party will support the standard bearers of The Party through a campaign headquarters, volunteer workers, literature distribution, telephone banks, and financial contributions.
- The County Party members will not support candidates of competing political parties.
